THE "OCALA COLONY" AT SALUDA, NORTH CAROLINA

A Round of Gaities. Picnicking on the Mountains. Seeing the "Horse Show." In the Dance's Merry Whirl.

Personal Notes.

Saluda, N. C., Aug. 29, 1908.
To the Ocala Banner:

With the additional Ocala crowd at Saluda the past week has been quite a lively one—particularly among the young people.

On Thursday evening the Ocala young people attended the Skyuka dance at the Saluda hall, and enjoyed a very delightful evening. While the dances are not conducted here as they are in Ocala, still they are very enjoyable, and the dance hall is a very splendid one.

Yesterday afternoon there was a silver tea at the new library hall for the benefit of the library, which is the pride of Saluda. And they have a right to be proud of it as it is a very worthy institution, and is a perfect boon to the summer visitors. It is a meeting place for all and is generally crowded, both in the mornings and evenings.

Yesterday morning quite a crowd of the young people from this neighborhood walked to Melrose (three miles down Saluda mountain) and came back on the noon train. They had the pleasure of meeting on the train Mr. and Mrs. John H. Taylor, Mrs. Sally Bell Croon and little son of Ocala, and Mr. Will Ross of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were en route to Asheville for a short visit, and from there they will go to Littleton and other points in eastern North Carolina to spend a few weeks with Mr. Taylor's relatives at his old home.

Mrs. Croon and little son went on to Asheville for the balance of the summer, and Mr. Ross, a former Ocalian, was on his way to Knoxville and Asheville. Returning, he expects to stop off at Saluda for a few days.

Mr. Carlisle Izlar passed through Saluda today on his way to Asheville for a short stay with friends.

Mrs. H. B. Clarkson and children are expected to reach Saluda tomorrow afternoon.

The past few days at Saluda have been excessively warm, and many of us have been sighing for the balmy air of our Florida homes. However, a good shower yesterday has somewhat cooled the atmosphere.

Hendersonville, twelve miles beyond Saluda, has been having a horse show this week, and that pretty little city has been crowded with visitors. This was the last day of the show, and a large crowd went up from Saluda on the noon train and spent the afternoon enjoying the festivities attendant on the exhibition. In our party were Misses Christine Richards of Gainesville, Louise Harris of Ocala, Bessie Traylor and Lucy Haywood of Raleigh, N. C., and Messrs. Harvey Clark and Frank Harris of Ocala, and Frank Prettyman and Cannon Prettyman of Marion, S. C., chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Powers of Ocala. They had a royal good time and fell thoroughly in love with Hendersonville, and were much delighted with the beautiful horses exhibited.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Carroll and daughter and Mrs. Carroll's sister, Mrs. Nona Ramsauer, also attended the horse show at Hendersonville this afternoon, and Mr. Carroll will no doubt write his impression of the same to the Star.

Quite a number of the young folks from here are attending a dance at Flat Rock tonight. Flat Rock is between Saluda and Hendersonville, and is quite a popular resort.

Mr. Tom Harris, who has been spending a week at Saluda, leaves Saturday morning for Asheville, and will leave from there Saturday night, and expects to reach Ocala Monday afternoon. Mr. Frank Harris, Jr., will also spend Saturday at Asheville, returning to Saluda Sunday afternoon.

Capt. T. H. Johnson of Ocala, whose family are summering at Hendersonville, spends every day at Saluda, coming down in the mornings and returning to Hendersonville at night. He is here buying apples, potatoes and other western North Carolina crops, which he is very busily engaged in shipping to the Florida markets.

Tomorrow (Friday) quite a party from this neighborhood will go down to Tryon on the 8:30 o'clock train, returning on the 7 o'clock evening train. They will carry lunch and enjoy the day picnicking on Tryon mountain. In the party will be Mrs. Frank Harris, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Powers, Master Harris Powers, Mrs. C. H. Lloyd, Misses Christine Richards, Louise Harris, May Hane, Lucy Haywood, Bessie Traylor, Virginia Prettyman, and Messrs. Tom Harris, Frank Harris, Harvey Clark, Frank and Mann Prettyman.

There are many Floridians at Tryon, and it is considered one of the prettiest of the many pretty little mountain towns in this section.

Mr. James H. Jones and Mr. John C. Jones, two prominent attorneys of Orlando; Mr. Evans Haile, the well known Gainesville attorney, and Mr. J. C. DaVant, a rising young barrister of the Brooksville bar, are in Ocala on professional business, and are stopping at the Ocala House.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record says that the Ocala Manufacturing Company expects to increase the capacity of its ice plant by twenty-five or forty tons. Everything indicates that Ocala is stepping upward.

If the railroads would give it equal freight rates it could easily rival any of the favored seaport cities.

OCALA BRYAN AND KERN DEMOCRATIC CLUB

In response to the call of Hon. Jno. M. Graham, chairman of the Marion county democratic committee, a number of democrats met in the court house Tuesday night, and effected an organization by the election of Mr. P. V. Leavengood, chairman, Mr. J. P. Phillips secretary and Mr. W. W. Clyatt treasurer.

The name adopted for the club is the "Ocala Bryan and Kern Democratic Club." The motion that an initiation fee be charged was voted down, but all the members were urged to use their best efforts to solicit contributions and club membership.

A number of short addresses were made, and the club starts out with good prospects.

With the spirit of enthusiasm that is now rife all around us the organization of this club will enliven the spirit of democracy in our city.

On Friday night, September 4 a meeting of the club will be held in the court house and the phonographic speeches of Mr. Bryan will be rendered, and the ladies will be invited to be present. Perhaps some of the members who are good speakers will be drafted into service.

Every effort will be made to make the club effective and the meetings interesting.

Mr. Ben Borden and family have gone to Lake Weir and will occupy the F. W. Ditto cottage, advertised for rent in this paper. It is a pretty cottage, and Mr. Borden and family will no doubt have a pleasant outing.

Mr. Richard S. Hall has been spending the past week at Hendersonville and Asheville, N. C.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. G. T. LIDDON

"Let not your hearts be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am there ye may be also."

"Angel voices sweetly singing,
Echoes through the blue dome ringing,
News of wondrous gladness bringing,
Ah! 'Tis heaven at last."

Death cannot come untimely to one who has learned to die through faith in Christ, but to the bereaved ones it is hard to part, and seemingly untimely to give up a loved one, so lovely in character and deservedly popular, because she lived in deeds, love to others, as did Mrs. Liddon.

She showed in her last hours of suffering sweet Christian resignation and grand belief in immortality when as she partook from the hands of her beloved pastor, Rev. Barnett, the holy communion, she said: "Not my will, O Heavenly Father, but thine be done."

"Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust" was only spoken over her body when it was consigned to "the house appointed for all the living."

Death, where is thy sting? Grave, where is thy victory? She is not lost, but gone before. We weep and wonder here at the mystery of death, but just beyond the veil, where angels weave their mystic spell our loved one is singing songs of eternal joy. No family but has its empty chairs, and that stillness no earthly noise can disturb, but it brings heaven to us through the strange silence, and with faith we catch glimpses of our loved ones in the echoless beyond.

We know, beloved Elia Liddon, thy crown will not be a starless one, for you lived not for self, but for Him who died for you, and you have joined your sweet babe, Johnny, who has waited for you so long, with a whisper of love to sorrowing husband and children: "Be of good cheer; we'll meet again."

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. H. Barnett, assisted by Rev. C. C. Carroll, and the song service by Miss Jessie Martin. The pall bearers were Messrs. M. M. Little, L. Dozier, J. G. Ferguson, Isaac Stevens, W. D. Carr and G. A. Nash. There were many floral offerings from many sympathizing friends. The body was laid to rest beside her son in Greenwood cemetery. She leaves a husband and six children to mourn her death.

"There is no death; an angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;
He bears our best beloved away,
And then we call them dead."

A FRIEND.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Teague and children left yesterday for an outing down at Lady Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Townley Porter preceded them, and they will have a "house party" for a fortnight. Besides a farm they have a lovely bearing orange grove at the "old home" and the two weeks will be delightfully spent.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Payne were in Ocala Monday, returning from a visit to their daughter, Mrs. P. Wilson Green, at Belleview. Mr. Payne expects to plant about 150 acres in watermelons next season, and as he is an expert farmer he will no doubt make a success of the experiment.

Mr. W. W. Martin, the successful young orange grower of Martin, was mingling with his Ocala friends Saturday and Sunday. He is one of our young men who has been attracted from the city to the country, and has made a success of farm life and is taking the world at ease.

Miss Bettie Ray McIver has returned from Seabreeze. While there she was a guest of Mrs. Simeon T. Sistrunk.

UNION SERVICES AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

There were union services at the Methodist church Sunday night, and the congregation was comfortably large.

The choir of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches joined together, and as a result the singing was most excellent and was very much enjoyed.

Rev. C. C. Carroll, the popular pastor of the Baptist church, was the preacher for the evening, but before he began his sermon Mr. Eugene Barnett, a young man under twenty-one, son of the Methodist pastor, was introduced, and made a fine address. He was perfectly at his ease, his words were well chosen, his enunciation clear, his gestures in keeping with his subject, and the warmth of his delivery told that he was deeply in earnest. He left a most favorable impression. He is preparing himself for missionary service in foreign fields. His earnestness and sincerity amounts to an enthusiasm of the Loyola type. His subject was "Missions."

Mr. Carroll also spoke on the subject of missions and spoke most eloquently, as he always does. We heard a stranger remark that he had heard many sermons on missions, and they were generally monotonous and tiresome productions, but that Mr. Carroll's was interesting from start to finish. It certainly was. He showed that the missionary labors did not begin with the advent of Christ, but began at the very beginning of Bible history.

His effort was a splendid one and was oratorically embellished with a rich and splendid vocabulary, and reinforced with statistical facts and beautiful and appropriate illustrations. He is a fine preacher.
